

Boca Christian Athletics Home School Policy

Boca Christian welcomes the participation of home school students to Boca Christian High School & Middle School athletic teams.

1. Middle school home school students are eligible to try out for BRCS high school teams.
2. If a middle school home school student makes a high school athletic team, that student will be permitted to participate on the high school team with no restrictions.
3. Home school middle school students may sign up for middle school football with no restrictions.
4. All other middle school athletic teams will be open to home school participation with the consent of the Athletic Director. Boca Christian has a no cut policy for its middle school students, which at times results in too many participants for an effective team. If this situation occurs, every effort will be made to add a second team.
